

A Review on Stability Studies of Ayurvedic Pharmaceutical Dosage Form

Biresh K. Sarkar*, Vikas Kumar, Reeta, Harbans Singh, Ravi Kumar

Central Ayurveda Research Institute For Respiratory Disorders, Moti Bagh Road, Patiala- 147001 (Pb),

Address for Correspondence: editojohp@gmail.com

ABSTRACT

Stability is aimed at assuring that the drug / drug product remains within specifications established to ensure its identity, strength, quality and purity. These Ayurvedic Pharmaceutical dosages form are followed by the guidelines issued by Regulatory bodies like WHO or other regulatory agencies. Stability Studies of Pharmaceutical Product Capacity of a pharmaceutical product in a given packaging system to remain within established specifications to maintain its Quality and deliver the desired.

This review article includes introduction about stability studies, types of stability studies, and guidelines issued for shelf life estimation of pharmaceutical products.

Key Words: Stability, pharmaceutical products, Stability Testing.

Access this Article Online

Website: <http://www.journalofhospitalpharmacy.in> Quick Response Code:

Received on 15/03/2018
Accepted on 21/03/2018 © HEB All rights reserved

